

Congratulations!

Well Done!

If you have truly finished the One Year Chronological Bible and Study Guide, you are part of a rare breed. I am impressed. You are to be congratulated. I commend your diligence. I trust that it paid off in the end and God has blessed you immensely.

1

Now that you are one of the victors, no one is more able than you to provide me with honest feedback. Would you please consider emailing me (no matter what time of the year it is) and letting me know that you finished. Trust me, I want to hear from you!
— aferguson@biay.org

2

Visit my website — BiAY.org — and fill out the Feedback Form (left-hand side). The survey will only take you five minutes and will be very helpful to me.

3

If you chicken out of the survey, leave a comment on the website — BiAY.org. Click on “What Others Are Saying.”

4

Tell your friends, family, and fellow church members about your experience with the One Year Chronological Bible and Study Guide. Maybe even start your own Bible study, and let me know how I can help.

5

I am constantly reading, studying, and writing. If you are interested, I have many more resources available on my website. These materials fall into one of my several interests — Bible study, parenting (particularly for fathers), leadership development, biblical worldview, apologetics, history, and government.

Visit BiAY.org

Click on “Other Resources”

Here are a few things I have available:

One Year Chronological Bible Daily Reflections

I have written a devotion summarizing the daily reading of the One Year Chronological Bible. Each devotion has questions for personal reflection and application.

The Baker’s Bread

This is a discipleship guide written in a 66-day devotional format, written to instruct and inspire believers of all ages to dig into God’s Word and discover the depth and application of our daily bread, as well as the benevolence of the Baker.

Commentaries

As I study through books of the Bible, I am producing my own commentaries. You will find them on that site.

America’s Christian Heritage

I am a student and teacher of America’s Christian history and government. I have put together many articles, curriculum, and booklets that educate Christians on their nation’s past and responsibilities.

Much More

You will also find more devotions, poems and short stories, Bible studies, and more. May God bless you, as you use your gifts and talents for His glory.