

Congratulations!

Well Done!

If you truly finished the chronological New Testament and Study Guide, you are part of a rare breed. I am impressed, and you are to be congratulated. I commend your diligence. I trust that it has paid off in the end, and God has blessed you immensely.

What should you do now?

1

Now that you have completed the Study Guide, no one is more able than you to provide me with honest feedback. Would you please consider emailing me (no matter what time of the year it is) and letting me know that you have finished? Trust me, I want to hear from you.

2

If your experience this year was positive, please tell your friends, family, and fellow church members about this Study Guide.

3

Seriously pray about starting a small group Bible study and going through the New Testament together.

4

If you don't start a Bible study, perhaps you could give someone else a guide, as a means to invest in their spiritual growth.

I am constantly reading, studying, and writing. If you are interested, I have many more resources available on my website – BiAY.org.

These materials fall into one of my several interests — Bible study, parenting (particularly for fathers), leadership development, biblical worldview, apologetics, history, and government.
